Shalom! It's that time of the year again – time to renew your support for CSJO.

CSJO continues to provide its members with many benefits including our newsletter, annual Memorial Day weekend conference, lending library, access to educational and celebratory materials as well as assistance in organizing and sustaining new communities. Please be sure to also check our web site (www.csjo.org) for updates and information on upcoming events and activities. Your membership in CSJO helps us to support these endeavors.

The Executive Board of CSJO has been very busy this past year. Here are some of our accomplishments:

1. A west coast regional conference was held in Vancouver, BC over Labor Day weekend and was attended by CSJO, SHJ and Workmen's Circle members from California, Washington and Vancouver.
2. Over 100 people attended our annual conference in Cleveland. Save the Date - May 27-30, 2011 for next year's conference in Toronto, Canada
3. You can now choose to receive your newsletter electronically. If you wish to receive the newsletter through email, please check the box below on your renewal form.

In addition to your membership, CSJO has funds which you also may wish to support:

- The Max Rosenfeld Publications Fund helps us to continue publishing secular Jewish material.
- The Harold Gales Community Development Fund is used to help establish new affiliate groups.
- The Gerry Revzin Scholarship Fund assists our members in furthering their Jewish education.
- The Teen/Young Adult Fund assists our youth in undertaking programs or activities where they can meet and socialize.

The Board of CSJO has created two new funds which will benefit both our youth and adults:

- The Teen/Young Adult Conference Subsidy Fund helps defray conference costs for our younger members
- The Adult Conference Subsidy Fund will also assist our members wishing to attend our annual conference.

Your support of CSJO is very important to us. With your assistance as well as others like you, CSJO can continue to be a "Voice for Cultural Jews" in our international community. Your financial support to CSJO is greatly appreciated. If you have any questions, feel free to contact me by phone, regular mail, or email.

With sincere gratitude,
